Your stage for fibres and yarns

The ideal trade platform for raw materials with home textile applications

Cotton and polyester dominated the market while lyocell and silk have shown increasingly high demand in recent years. As of June 2024, China had imported around 1.8 million tons of cotton during the year, a year-on-year increase of 213%. Imports of viscose filament yarns also more than tripled, with viscose staple fibres, spandex, nylon filament, and polyester filament yarns the other chemical fibres showing strong growth. Reach a wide variety of home and contract textile manufacturers at Asia's gateway to home living.

Major consumer trends to capitalise on at the Fibres & Yarns Zone

Applications of:

- Bedding: anti-mite and antibacterial, hygroscopic and quick-drying, breathability
- Upholstery and curtain fabrics: liquid repellent, easy-to-clean, scratch-proof
